FINANCIAL SITUATION OF UNIDO

Financial situation, including arrears

Report by the Director-General

Provides information on the financial situation of UNIDO, including arrears, as at 31 December 2002, as well as on significant financial developments that affected the Organization during the first year of the biennium. A conference room paper will be issued during the session to provide updated information on the status of assessed contributions and voting rights

Note: This document was prepared prior to the finalization of the interim financial performance and programme performance report. Should there be any significant changes, an addendum will be issued.

For reasons of economy, this document has been printed in a limited number. Delegates are kindly requested to bring their copies of documents to meetings.

I. OVERVIEW

1. The financial situation as at 31 December 2002 can be summarized in the following major points:

(a) Regular budget net expenditures for the first year of the biennium 2002-2003 amounted to €60.2 million, or 90.1 per cent of the approved 2002 net budget estimates, as compared with 87.8 per cent in 2000 (the first year of the previous biennium);

(b) Operational budget expenditures amounted to €10.3 million in 2002, as compared with €9.8 million in 2000. Support cost and other income during 2002 amounted to €8.9 million ($9.1 million), as compared to €10.7 million ($9.5 million) in 2000;

(c) The level of regular budget cash resources (including the Working Capital Fund) was €21.1 million. In comparison, the cash balance as at 31 December 2001 and 2000 was €18.6 million and €15.3 million, respectively;

(d) The collection rate of 2002 assessed contributions was 93.1 per cent—the highest for any year since UNIDO became a specialized agency—as compared to 91.7 and 84.0 per cent respectively in 2001 and 2000;

(e) The amount of the arrears collected from prior years represented 6.5 per cent of the amount of assessed contributions for the current year. The collection rates of prior years' arrears in 2001 and 2000, as compared to the assessments of those years, were 19.4 and 16.0 per cent, respectively;

(f) Outstanding contributions amounted to €111.4 million (including arrears of €69.3 million by the United States of America, and €2.1 million by the former Yugoslavia¹)—details are given in annex I. The outstanding amounts as at 31 December 2001 and 2000 were €111.1 million and €117.6 million, respectively;

(g) The Working Capital Fund was at the level of €7,423,030; however, €76,029 was outstanding as at 31 December 2002;

(h) Interest income in excess of budgetary estimates amounting to €418,214 was credited on 1 January 2003 to eligible Member States, in accordance with the "S" curve formula, when their assessed contributions for the year 2003 were calculated;

(i) Income received from new Member States amounting to €299,793 was credited to Member States on 1 January 2003;

(j) Arrears collected against unencumbered balances of appropriations amounting to €791,258 relating to the bienniums 1992-1993, 1996-1997 and 1998-1999, received until 31 October 2002, were credited to eligible Member States when their assessed contributions for the year 2003 were calculated. As at 31 December 2002, the unencumbered balances of appropriations, mostly relating to the 2000-2001 biennium, amounted to €3.27 million. In the absence of any other decision, these balances would require crediting to eligible Member States on 1 January 2004.

2. The financial situation continues to be healthy in 2003. As at 28 February 2003, the level of regular budget cash resources (including the Working Capital Fund) was €47.5 million, as compared to the cash balance on the same date in 2002 and 2001 of €24.4 and €32.4 million, respectively. This has resulted from the excellent collection rate of 2003 assessed contributions, which was 58.1 per cent as at 28 February 2003; the highest for the same period since UNIDO became a specialized agency. As compared to this, the collection rates in February 2002 and 2001 were 28.2 and 27.1 per cent, respectively. Outstanding contributions amounted to €139.0 million (including arrears of €71.3 million by former Member States) as shown in annex II. The outstanding amounts as at 28 February 2002 and 2001 were €159.2 million and €158.7 million, respectively.

II. REGULAR AND OPERATIONAL BUDGETS, 2002-2003

3. The overall implementation of the approved regular budget for 2002-2003 started as planned. In view of the expected high collection rate of assessed contributions during 2002, as well as the healthy cash situation of the Organization at the beginning of the biennium, an average release of 97 per cent of the appropriations for 2002 was approved as compared with 91 per cent in 2000, the first year of the previous biennium. This included a 100 per cent release for staff costs, Regular Programme of Technical Cooperation (RPTC), Industrial Development Decade for Africa (IDDA) supplementary activities, field operating costs and information technology; and an average of 86 per cent under consultants, travel, meetings, operating costs and indirect costs. Net expenditures amounted to 90.1 per cent, or €60.2 million, of the approved 2002 net regular budget, as compared with 87.8 per cent, or $52 million, in 2000. The higher implementation rate in 2002 is mainly attributable to the transfer of the full RPTC appropriation from the regular budget to the new special account for RPTC and higher expenditures under IDDA supplementary activities. Higher-than-budgeted increases in salaries and related common staff costs in the Professional and higher categories were offset by decreases in expenditure levels under staff costs due to the conservative recruitment policy of maintaining a higher vacancy rate. Overall, the regular budget shows a balanced performance, which corresponds to the collection rate of assessed contributions.

4. The BMS gross appropriation was released at the level of 96.7 per cent as compared with 85 per cent in 2000. The expenditure level in 2002 amounted to €13.6 million or 73.3 per cent of the 2002 appropriations. The lower implementation reflects the delay in the asbestos removal programme due to factors beyond UNIDO's control.

5. The overall expenditure level of the operational budget in 2002 amounted to €10.3 million, as compared with €9.8 million ($8.7 million) for the same period in 2000. Operational budget income in 2002 amounted to €8.9 million ($9.1 million), resulting from technical cooperation delivery, interest income earned from the investment of surplus funds and government contributions for field offices, whereas income in 2000 amounted to €10.7 million ($9.5 million). Savings on cancellation of obligations from the prior biennium amounted to €0.6 million. The year 2002, therefore, recorded a deficit of €0.8 million. Thus, the operating reserve, which as at 1 January 2002 amounted to €3.3 million, was reduced to €2.5 million at the end of 2002. The trend during the first two months of 2003, however, shows that the reserve by the end of 2003 will be restored to at least the level at the end of 2001 (i.e. €3.3 million).

6. The delivery of technical cooperation activities as at 31 December 2002 amounted to $81.8 million, which showed an improvement of $13.1 million over the delivery of 2000 ($68.7 million), the first year of the previous biennium. However, as compared to the 2001 delivery of $84.7 million, the 2002 delivery shows a shortfall of $2.9 million, which can be primarily attributed to the non-availability of resources from the unencumbered balances of appropriations; in 2001 delivery amounting to $2.9 million was carried out from these resources. Furthermore, delivery of RPTC is traditionally lower in the first year of the biennium than the second. For instance, RPTC delivery in 2000 and 2001 amounted to $1.4 million and $5.6 million, respectively. In 2002, RPTC delivery amounted to $1.6 million. However, with the establishment of a special account for RPTC in 2002, it is expected that such a situation will be largely addressed and that RPTC delivery in future years will be more even over the biennium.

7. The technical cooperation delivery as at 28 February 2003 amounted to $27 million. As compared to this, delivery as at 28 February in 2002 and 2001 was $25.6 million and $21 million respectively.

III. ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS

Collections

8. A total of 77 Member States, including nine least developed countries (LDCs), have made full payments and 18 Member States, of which five were LDCs, have made partial payments of their assessed contributions for the year 2002. Collections in the period from January to December 2002, broken down by Lists of States, are shown in table 1.

Outstanding contributions

9. The detailed status of assessed contributions outstanding as at 31 December 2002 is contained in annex I to the present document, including the status of voting rights of each Member State.

10. The scale of assessment and outstanding contributions as at 31 December 2002, broken down by Lists of States, are shown in table 2.

Total	111.4	111.1	117.6

12. As stated in document IDB.25/6, the Secretariat is closely following developments at the United Nations General Assembly regarding the arrears of the former Yugoslavia. In General Assembly resolution 57/4 B, it was decided to consider further the question of the outstanding assessed contributions of the former Yugoslavia at its fifty-eighth session. Any further information in this respect taken by the General Assembly will be conveyed to the UNIDO governing bodies for consideration.

13. In addition to the assessed contributions amounting to €69,264,731 for the period 1994 to 1996, the United States owes €956,753 for income taxes under the Tax Reimbursement Agreement, thus owing a total amount of €70,221,484.

14. Regular follow-up letters regarding these arrears are sent by the Secretariat to the Permanent Mission of the United States of America to the United Nations in Vienna, the most recent of which was dated 11 November 2002. A reply was received on 19 December 2002 stating that unfortunately the United States Government still could not provide a specific timeframe when these payments would be made. Current legislation did not allow for the allocation of funds for payment of the United States' obligations to UNIDO, nor could the Government predict when a more favourable circumstance would occur. Despite the current uncertainty, the United States remained committed to meeting its financial obligations to UNIDO.

IV. VOTING RIGHTS

15. As indicated in annex I to the present document, the voting rights of 50 Member States had been suspended as at 31 December 2002 in accordance with Article 5.2 of the Constitution and financial regulation 5.5(b), as summarized in table 4.

Table 4. Suspension of voting rights as at 31 December

	2002	2001	2000
General Conference	50	51	59

Programme and Budget Committee	1	0	3

16. In order to restore their voting rights, these Member States must have paid their full contributions for 1999 and prior years, including advances to the Working Capital Fund, as well as a partial contribution for 2000. The minimum total amount that would have to be paid by these Member States amounts to €21,684,630.

V. IMPLEMENTATION OF RECOMMENDATIONS OF GROUP ON TIMELY PAYMENTS

Payment plans

17. Payment plans have been approved for Ukraine (€9.7 million—GC.9/Dec.12) and Azerbaijan (€1.3 million—IDB.26/Dec.4). Ukraine has already made two payments amounting to €2,048,318 and Azerbaijan one payment amounting to €129,933. Negotiations are under way with a number of other Member States to settle their arrears under payment plans.

Incentives and disincentives schemes

18. As reported in various documents, including IDB.26/9, in order to encourage Member States to make timely payments, the open-ended discussion group on timely payments of assessed contributions recommended the introduction of an incentive mechanism, based on a mathematical formula ("S" curve). Under this formula, the incentive is calculated taking into account the amount and date of payment of the current year's contributions. The incentive amount to be allocated is the amount of interest earned in excess of budgetary estimates. Funds amounting to €418,214 were credited on 1 January 2003 to eligible Member States when their assessed contributions for the year 2003 were calculated. The next incentive amount due for distribution would be on 1 January 2005, i.e. one year after the end of the current biennium.

19. In its decision IDB.26/Dec.3, the Board requested the Secretariat to ascertain from other organizations in the United Nations system information as to the incentives and disincentives in place with regard to the payment of assessed contributions, as well as to the linking of such incentives and disincentives to services provided and to report thereon to the Committee at its nineteenth session. Annex III to this document provides the latest information on the incentives and disincentives in place in other organizations in the United Nations system. This information has been obtained from the Secretariat of the Chief Executives Board for Coordination.

20. The Secretariat is also following closely developments at the United Nations General Assembly. In the report of the Committee on Contributions of 2002, the Committee concluded that if the General Assembly decided to introduce interest charges on arrears, the rate should be fixed at a low level and should not have a retroactive effect. The Committee felt that this annual rate should not exceed 1 per cent.

VI. UNENCUMBERED BALANCES OF APPROPRIATIONS AND INCOME FROM NEW MEMBER STATES

Balances approved for the integrated programmes (GC.8/Res.4)

21. Documents GC.9/10 and IDB.26/2 contained detailed information on the funds approved by the General Conference (GC.8/Res.4) for the implementation of the integrated programmes amounting to $4,405,323. These funds, arising from unencumbered balances of appropriations (UB) and income from new Member States, were placed in a special account and the Secretariat has regularly kept Member States informed about the utilization of these resources. Document GC.9/10 also provided information as to some savings, which may result from the cancellation of obligations in accordance with UNIDO's financial regulations. The status of this special account as at 31 December 2002 shows that such savings amounted to $225,124. Some of these savings are required to absorb late charges coming from the UNDP field offices, which are expected to be cleared by the end of June 2003. The remaining amount in this account, should no other decision be taken by the Member States, will be transferred to general-purpose IDF funds for the exclusive purpose approved by the General Conference (GC.8/Res.4).

Amounts distributed on 1 January 2003

22. Outstanding assessed contributions received until 31 October 2002 against UB amounted to €791,258 broken down by biennium as follows: 1992-1993 (€131,749), 1996-1997 (€214,900) and 1998-1999 (€444,609). This amount was credited to eligible Member States when their assessed contributions for 2003 were calculated.

23. Furthermore, income received from new Member States (mainly from South Africa and Yugoslavia—new) amounting to €299,793 was distributed on 1 January 2003 to Member States.

Provisional UB due for distribution on 1 January 2004

24. As at 31 December 2002, the collections against UB amounted to €3,266,317, broken down by biennium as follows: €10,410 against 1998-1999 received in November 2002; and €3,255,907 against 2000-2001. In the absence of any other decision, €3,266,317 plus any additional outstanding contributions received during 2003, against the prior bienniums (1992-1993, 1996-1997, 1998-1999 and 2000-2001), will be due for distribution to eligible Member States on 1 January 2004.

25. The attention of Member States is drawn to the resolution and decision adopted by the last two sessions of the General Conference, which could facilitate a decision regarding the utilization of the UB. Resolution GC.8/Res.4, inter alia, strongly encouraged Member States to renounce their shares of unencumbered balances and authorized the Secretariat to retain these funds in a special account should no request for the surrendering of such balances be received from eligible Member States by a specified date; no further communication was required from the Secretariat. Decision GC.9/Dec.10, inter alia, strongly encouraged Member States to consider renouncing voluntarily their shares for the regular budget and/or technical cooperation activities of UNIDO, at the earliest possible opportunity. The Director-General was requested to solicit the intention of the Member States as to the utilization of these resources. Since a number of Member States had not indicated their preference by November 2001, the Board at its twenty-sixth session requested the Director-General to send a final reminder to those Member States that had not yet replied (IDB.26/Dec.3). In the same decision, the Board recommended to the General Conference that, should no response be received by 31 December 2003, the Conference allow the Secretariat to use the balances for integrated programmes or country service frameworks.

VII. IMPLEMENTATION OF A NEW FINANCIAL SYSTEM

26. As reported in various documents, including IDB.26/9, and positively commented upon by the former External Auditor in his final report (IDB.26/2), UNIDO successfully implemented the first phase of the new financial system at a total cost of about $1.7 million (€1.9 million at the exchange rate approved by the General Conference in decision GC.9/Dec.15), with no additional resources or staff. The current External Auditor in his first interim report (IDB.27/6-

PBC.19/6) also commented positively on the implementation of the financial system: "This, by all accounts, including the comments of my predecessors, was carried out particularly successfully with regard to timing and cost."

27. It is estimated that a further amount of €1.5-€2 million will be required to complete UNIDO's migration from the mainframe to modern interactive systems consisting of new human resource management, payroll, travel and a UNIDO-wide electronic document management system. These funds are included in the information and communication technology (ICT) budget for the current and the next biennium, thus no additional resources will be required. This will result in a total all-inclusive cost for the migration of all systems from the mainframe to a modern interactive system of some €3.9 million.

28. Although the scope of the system implementation may differ from organization to organization, and each organization computes IT project costs differently, a comparison with other organizations in the system of the cost of replacing all existing systems is informative. The following data are taken from a recent JIU report (JIU/REP/2002/9, "Managing Information in the United Nations System Organizations: Management Information Systems") and from the United Nations ICT Managers forum on the United Nations System CEB and HLCM site:

- UNESCO $14.5 million

- ILO $25 million
- FAO $34 million (estimated)
- UNDP $23 million (estimated)
- WFP $29 million (includes global connectivity, hardware etc.)
- UNHCR $30-40 million

VIII. ACTION REQUIRED OF THE COMMITTEE

29. The Committee may wish to recommend to the Board the adoption of the following draft decision:

"The Industrial Development Board:

"(a) Takes note of the information provided in document IDB.27/10-PBC.19/10;

"(b) Urges those Member States and former Member States that have not yet paid their assessed contributions, including advances to the Working Capital Fund and prior years' arrears, to settle their constitutional obligations without delay;

"(c) Requests the Director-General to pursue his efforts and contacts with Member States to effect the collection of arrears;

Annex III

INCENTIVE AND DISINCENTIVE SCHEMES IN OTHER UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATIONS^a

A. Incentive schemes

	Nature of scheme	Conditions of introduction	Main characteristics	Experience
ILO	Distribution to contributors of a proportion of interest and of currency forward-purchase premium earnings.	Introduced effective 1 January 1989 for experimental period of two years and continued on a permanent basis as from 1 January 1991.	(i) (a) 60 per cent of interest earned on temporarily surplus regular budget funds; plus (b) 50 per cent of net premium earned on forward purchase of US dollar requirements; (ii) Eligibility depends on Member State's being fully paid up at end of each year; (iii) S-curve .	Experience to date does not show any perceptible difference in collection performance.
FAO	Allocation among Member Nations of the interest income element of any cash surplus, on a weighted basis, in accordance with the amount and the timing of payment of contributions during the financial period. Discount to be credited to Member Nations for payment by 31 March of assessed contributions.	Introduced effective 1 January 1988, without time limit on applicability. Experimental test introduced effective 1 January 1993.	Applies to all interest earnings forming a part of a cash surplus. All Member Nations paying a contribution during the financial period are eligible to share in the allocation, regardless of whether the contribution paid is against arrears or current assessments, and irrespective of the status of outstanding assessments of the Member Nations at the end of the financial period. Detailed measures for the calculation of allocations have not yet been formalized. To be applied to assessed contribution of Member Nations which meet the following criteria: Payment of full assessment to 31 March; and no arrears outstanding.	In the absence of cash surpluses, Member Nations have had no real incentive under the scheme so far. Experience to date has shown little impact on the rate of receipt of contributions.
UNESCO	Distribution to Member States in accordance with timing and amounts of contributions paid of budget surpluses and all miscellaneous income except UNDP support costs.	After an initial period from 1988 to 1995, the scheme was prolonged for a further six years from 1 January 1996.	Resources consist of budget surpluses and miscellaneous income except UNDP support costs. These are distributed in accordance with the S-curve system to Member States that have paid their contributions in full for each year of the financial period concerned. The appropriate share of each eligible Member State is deducted from the contribution assessed on it for the second year of the subsequent financial period.	There has been little or no real incentive under the scheme in recent years. It is for that reason that the General Conference in 1995 decided to add new resources to make the scheme more attractive.
ICAO	Distribution of interest earnings.	Introduced effective 1 January 1987 for an indefinite period. First distribution 1 January 1990.	Bank interest earned on regular programme funds is distributed according to the S-curve formula, to Member States that have paid all or part of their contributions for the three years preceding the Assembly, and according to shares of undistributed surpluses accrued from previous years' budgets, to eligible Member States that have paid their contributions in full.	The incentive scheme has not influenced a large number of States to pay their assessed contributions in full and on time. There has been no significant change in the receipt of timely contributions.

^a Information obtained from an updated draft under preparation by the Secretariat of the Chief Executives Board for Coordination, Geneva, Switzerland and dated 10 March 2003.

	Nature of scheme	Conditions of introduction	Main characteristics	Experience
WHO	Distribution of interest earnings to contributors.	Introduced with effect from contribution payment record for 1989, for distribution as from the budget for 1992-1993; new scheme introduced with effect from 2002.	Member States are credited with a financial incentive if they make full payment of their assessed contributions within the grace period, which is currently up to 30 April in the year payment is due. The incentive is calculated as a discount equivalent to interest calculated at 3 months LIBID for the period from the date of payment until the end of the grace period.	No positive evidence that the scheme in either its new or previous form has any effect on the promptness of payment of contributions.
UPU	Rescheduling of debts.	Resolution C 61 of the 1989 Washington Universal Postal Congress.	Negotiation of special agreements with countries with substantial arrears, bearing in mind the latter's economic situation and the Union's interests. The debts of countries which have concluded such an agreement are transferred to a special account on which no interest is payable for the reimbursement period.	As at 31 December 2002, 33 countries were benefiting from this procedure.
WMO	Distribution of interest to contributors.	Introduced effective 1 January 1988 and extended by Thirteenth Congress in May 1999 for a further period of four years from 2000-2003.	Incentive scheme will apply to that part of the cash surplus for the financial period (four years) which represents interest credited to the General Fund, other than interest earned on the Working Capital Fund. Points are calculated by S-curve formula taking account of any current year's contribution paid, and the date of payment. Note: Full payment for current year is not a condition for earning points.	There is no positive evidence that the scheme has had any effect on the promptness of payment of contributions.
IMO	Distribution of interest earnings to Member States for the payment of current year's contributions.	Interest earnings have been distributed to Member States as and when cash surpluses were available. Member States are encouraged by the Council to donate their accrued interests on the contribution incentive scheme to the Organization's technical assistance programme for developing countries. To date, many Member States have contributed their accrued interest earnings to the Organization's Technical Cooperation Fund.	Incentive points are awarded in accordance with the formula which relates the date of payment towards current year's contribution to the number of incentive points. The rules provide for the distribution of interest earnings to be made in the second year after the year for which incentive points are allocated, if there is a sufficient cash surplus in that year. If the cash surplus is not sufficient, distribution is made from the first cash surplus arising in subsequent year. The allocation is to be used first to meet any outstanding arrears of contributions of a Member. Subject to the Council's encouragement of the donation of funds to technical cooperation, the surplus allocation is used to reduce the contribution of a Member in the year when the allocation was made.	The scheme does not itself appear to have influenced the pattern of payment of Member States. However, the presence of Rules 56 bis and ter have certainly encouraged payment (see penalty section).
IAEA	Availability of share in cash surplus; and Payment plans of up to 5 years	In practice since 1959. Statutory stipulation (as amended up to December 1989).	Shares become available once contribution payments for the year to which the surplus relates are received. Immediate restoration of voting rights.

B. Penalty (disincentive) schemes

	Nature of scheme	Conditions of introduction	Main characteristics	Experience
UPU	Charges of interest on late payments. Loss of the right to vote (Councils and Congress) and non-eligibility for membership of Councils.	Introduced by the Eighth Universal Postal Congress, Stockholm, 1924. Introduced by the Beijing Postal Congress 1999.	The annual contributory shares are payable in advance. The amounts due bear interest from the beginning of each financial year at 3 per cent per annum during the first six months and at 6 per cent per annum from the beginning of the seventh month. Interest of 5 per cent from the seventh month after the date of shipment on invoices for publications and other supplies. If the arrears of mandatory contributions are equal or more than the amount of the contributions for the preceding two financial years, the member country is subject to the loss of its voting right, unless an amortization schedule is signed or another solution found.	As at 31 December 2002, 17 members were without voting rights.
ITU	Charges of interest on late payments. Loss of the right to vote.	Since the inception of ITU; included in the International Telecommunication Convention since 1973.	The annual contributory shares are payable in advance. The amounts due bear interest from the beginning of each financial year at 3 per cent per annum during the first six months and at 6 per cent per annum from the beginning of the seventh month. A Member which is in arrears loses its right to vote for as long as the amount of its arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the contribution due from it for the preceding two years.	The total current year's contributions received by the end of the first six months has been 85 to 93 per cent and over 91 per cent in most years.
WMO	Loss of voting rights. Non-eligibility for nomination or renomination to elected offices and for membership of the Executive Council. Suspension of free quota of publications.	Resolution 37 adopted by Eleventh Congress in 1991.	Applicable to those Members who, through non-payment of their contributions are in arrears for more than two consecutive calendar years. Sanctions take effect at the beginning of third year. Resolution 37 may be suspended when a formal repayment agreement has been concluded (and provided that the provisions are adhered to), for the settlement of arrears over a period not exceeding 10 years, in addition to the payment of the current contribution in full.	As at 1 January 2003, 44 Members had lost their voting rights and six Members had complied with their signed repayment agreements.
IMO	Loss of voting right, unless waiver is requested.	Rules 56 bis and ter , adopted Nov.1991 and applied in 1993.	Rule 56 bis sets out in detail the procedure by which Members may request a waiver, i.e. by submitting a written application with reasons for non-payment and a payment schedule. Rule 56 ter states that any Member seeking election to the IMO Council should have discharged its financial obligations or have committed itself to a schedule to do so.
IAEA	Penalty: Loss of voting rights.	Statutory stipulation (as amended up to December 1980).	If regular budget arrears exceed the total amount payable for the proceeding two years.
