Head of ITPO Shanghai

——荀子《劝学篇》

不积跬步，
无以至千里；
不积小流，
无以成江海。

Dear friends and colleagues,

The Year of 2018 marks the 18th year of UNIDO ITPO Shanghai, and also unfolds a new chapter for ITPO Shanghai in the sense that it is operated by a new team, a team eager for learning, happy for joining, ready for working, and grateful for achieving.

Committed to achieving an inclusive and sustainable development, ITPO Shanghai provides value-added advisory services to business development organizations, local governments, and investment promotion agencies in China to promote inbound and outbound investment, and to enhance technical skills. In addition, by organizing various study tours, trainings, global forums, and events, ITPO Shanghai specially focuses on issues related to SDG8 (Promote sustained, inclusive and sustainable economic growth, full and productive employment and decent work for all), SDG9 (Build resilient infrastructure, promote inclusive and sustainable industrialization and foster innovation), and SDG17 (Strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development).

To empower public and private sectors with UNIDO's vision of ISID, ITPO Shanghai establishes its new premises -- "Center of Excellence", whereby our partners and stakeholders will get together to exchange ideas on how to foster innovation and promote industry transformation so as to achieve a high-quality, namely inclusive and sustainable, development.

In November, Chinese President Xi Jinping announced the national strategy of Yangtze River Delta (YRD) Integration Plan during his opening remark at the first Chinese International Import Expo, and the key to the plan is to ensure that the YRD region should follow a high-quality development path. This is exactly what UNIDO cherishes, that is, to strive for an inclusive and sustainable development. To this end, in the year of 2019, ITPO Shanghai will spare no effort in assisting the YRD region with UNIDO's know-how and experiences during its endeavor for a high-quality development. It is our mission, and also our obligation.

Meanwhile, ITPO Shanghai will continue to promote investments and cross border cooperation under the Belt-and-Road Initiative, and make due contributions to facilitate technology transfer.

None achievement could be made possible without strong and continuous support from UNIDO HQ and especially ITPO Network. On behalf of ITPO Shanghai, I would like to take this opportunity to express my heart-felt gratitude to all colleagues from UNIDO HQ, for your great support and facilitation, to me, and to the whole ITPO team. Of course, my special thanks also go to my team of ITPO Shanghai, a team that I am so proud of, for their passion, devotion to their undertakings, extremely hard working and praiseworthy team spirit.

As the ancient saying goes in China, "The longest journey starts with single steps and the sea is made up of tiny streams."(from Xunzi, Quan Xue)

Let's think globally and act locally.

About UNIDO & ITPO Shanghai

Mr. Yong Li
Director General of UNIDO

UNIDO is the specialized agency of the United Nations that promotes industrial development for poverty reduction, inclusive globalization and environmental sustainability.

As of 17 May 2018, 168 States are Members of UNIDO. They regularly discuss and decide UNIDO's guiding principles and policies in the sessions of the Policymaking Organs.

The mission of the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), as described in the Lima Declaration adopted at the fifteenth session of the UNIDO General Conference in 2013, is to promote and accelerate inclusive and sustainable industrial development (ISID) in Member States.

The relevance of ISID as an integrated approach to all three pillars of sustainable development is recognized by the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the related Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which will frame United Nations and country efforts towards sustainable development in the next fifteen years. UNIDO's mandate is fully recognized in SDG-9, which calls to "Build resilient infrastructure, promote inclusive and sustainable industrialization and foster innovation". The relevance of ISID, however, applies in greater or lesser extent to all SDGs.

Accordingly, the Organization's programmatic focus is structured, as detailed in the Organization's Medium-Term Programme Framework 2018-2021, in four strategic priorities:

- Creating shared prosperity
- Advancing economic competitiveness
- Safeguarding the environment
- Strengthening knowledge and institutions

Each of these programmatic fields of activity contains a number of individual programmes, which are implemented in a holistic manner to achieve effective outcomes and impacts through UNIDO's four enabling functions: (i) technical cooperation; (ii) analytical and research functions and policy advisory services; (iii) normative functions and standards and quality-related activities; and (iv) convening and partnerships for knowledge transfer, networking and industrial cooperation.

In carrying out the core requirements of its mission, UNIDO has considerably increased its technical services over the past ten years. At the same time, it has also substantially increased its mobilization of financial resources, testifying to the growing international recognition of the Organization as an effective provider of catalytic industrial development services.

In 1986, UNIDO introduced the very first Investment Promotion Services, which would become the UNIDO Network of Investment and Technology Promotion Offices (ITPOs). Since then, the UNIDO ITPOs have contributed to reducing development imbalances, by brokering investment and technology agreements between developed, developing countries and countries with economies in transition. Located in both hemispheres, the specialized network of UNIDO ITPOs opens up opportunities for investors and technology suppliers to find potential partners and offers unique services to both entrepreneurs and business institutions.

Providing professional support to enterprises for partnership and business negotiations

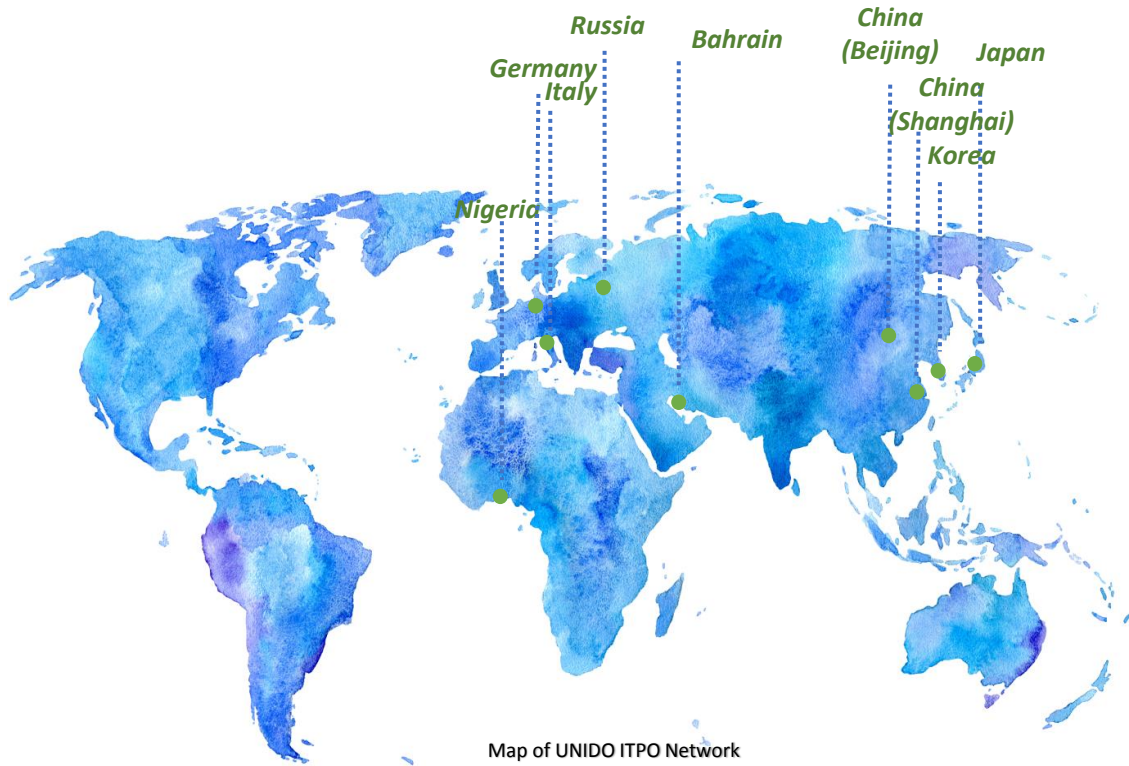

ITPOs guide potential investors from their host countries and from developing countries at each stage of the investment cycle, from project identification through appraisal to implementation. In doing so, ITPOs offer a full package of up-to-date information on screened and validated investment opportunities, including manufacturing facilities, and technology supply sources. ITPOs also provide first-hand knowledge on how to do business in local environments, including legal and economic aspects.

Operating the Delegate programme for investment and technology promotion

Within this programme, ITPOs host officials from developing countries and economies in transition to give them hands-on training in investment promotion techniques so that delegates are able to promote portfolios of screened investment and technology opportunities from their own countries. Thereafter, delegates act as contact points between their countries and potential foreign partners.

ITPOs benefit from intra-organizational linkages with other UNIDO's worldwide Networks including the UNIDO International Technology Centers (ITCs), the Subcontracting and Partnership Exchanges (SPXs), the numerous Export Consortia and the joint UNIDO/UNEP National Cleaner Production Centers (NCPCs); therefore providing value-added services to clients and partners.
